

Department of Spanish and Portuguese Studies
University of Florida
The UNDERGRADUATE MAJOR in PORTUGUESE
Updated Spring 2017

- The major in Portuguese consists of a minimum of thirty (30) semester hours (normally ten 3-credit courses) beyond POR 3010* with a grade of C or better (S/U not allowed). Majors normally take four classes at the 4000-level. Students transferring credits toward the major should take their 4000-level Portuguese classes at UF.
- These classes may be in languages/culture-civilization (POR prefix), literature/special topics (POW prefix), or courses in translation (PRT, FOL prefixes; such courses count towards the major if reading/writing is done in Portuguese).
- Students wishing to earn major credits of UF-sponsored programs abroad should make arrangements before departure.
- Those majoring in Portuguese who have no previous experience in a Lusophone country are especially encouraged to complete six credits in the UF summer B study-abroad program in Rio de Janeiro.
- Two independent studies (POW 4905) may be used for a major, one for a minor.

* POR 3010 Introduction to Portuguese and Brazil does not count towards the major/minor.

Students with a more advanced level of Portuguese may begin with POR 3242, POR 3243, or a literature course.

Please consult with program faculty.

The following language/culture-civilization courses are offered regularly:

- POR 3224 Applied Portuguese (rotating topics)
- POR 3242 Oral and Written Practice
- POR 3243 Composition and Conversation
- POR 3451 Introduction to Portuguese Translation and Interpretation
- POR 3500 Luso-Brazilian Civilization
- POR 3502 Brazilian Culture (Summer B, Rio de Janeiro program)
- POR 4956 Advanced Study-Abroad Language Course (Summer B, Rio program)
- POR 4420 Advanced Composition and Syntax (occasionally)

Literature and culture classes generally rotate in four-year cycles:

- POW 3100 Introduction to Literature in Portuguese (from Portugal, Brazil and Africa)
- POW 3130 Introduction to Brazilian Literature I (1500-1900)
- POW 3131 Introduction to Brazilian Literature II (1900-present)
- POW 4380 Contemporary Brazilian Poetry
- POW 4382 Brazilian Drama
- POW 4450 Modernist Movement in Brazilian Literature
- POW 4454 Nineteenth-Century Brazilian Literature
- POW 4480 Contemporary Brazilian Narrative
- POW 4700 Machado de Assis and his Contemporaries
- POW 4930 Special Topics in Luso-Brazilian Culture and Literature
- PRT 3391 Brazilian Cinema (cross-listed with ENG 4135 National Cinemas)
- PRT 3930 Readings in Luso-Brazilian Culture and Literature in Translation (e.g. Brazil in Song, Dictatorship and Development, Fantasy and Science Fiction, Portuguese Globalism)

For more information, check with Undergraduate Advisor, Prof. Charles A. Perrone (perrone@ufl.edu) or Prof. M. Elizabeth Ginway (eginway@ufl.edu). For questions regarding language courses please consult with Prof. Andrea Ferreira (deia@ufl.edu). Please see www.ufic.ufl.edu for Study Abroad Information and Application. The Department web address is www.spanishandportuguese.ufl.edu; see Portuguese there.

Updated 1/12/2017

Department of Spanish and Portuguese Studies
University of Florida
The UNDERGRADUATE MINOR in PORTUGUESE
Updated Spring 2017

- The minor in Portuguese consists of a minimum of 15 hours (normally five 3-credit courses), beyond POR 3010* with a grade of C or better (S/U not allowed). Minors normally take two classes at the 4000-level. Minors must complete nine hours at UF.
- These classes may be in languages/culture-civilization (POR prefix), literature/special topics (POW prefix), or courses in translation (PRT, FOL prefixes; such courses count towards the minor if reading/writing is done in Portuguese).
- Students wishing to earn major/minor credits of UF-sponsored programs abroad should make arrangements before departure.
- Those minoring in Portuguese who have no previous experience in a Lusophone country are especially encouraged to complete six credits in the UF summer B study-abroad program in Rio de Janeiro.
- Two independent studies (POW 4905) may be used for a major, one for a minor.

* POR 3010 Introduction to Portuguese and Brazil does not count towards the major/minor.

Students with a more advanced level of Portuguese may begin with POR 3242, POR 3243, or a literature course.
Please consult with program faculty.

The following language/culture-civilization courses are offered regularly:

- POR 3224 Applied Portuguese (rotating topics)
- POR 3242 Oral and Written Practice
- POR 3243 Composition and Conversation
- POR 3451 Introduction to Portuguese Translation and Interpretation
- POR 3500 Luso-Brazilian Civilization
- POR 3502 Brazilian Culture (Summer B, Rio de Janeiro program)
- POR 4956 Advanced Study-Abroad Language Course (Summer B, Rio program)
- POR 4420 Advanced Composition and Syntax (occasionally)

Literature and culture classes generally rotate in four-year cycles.

- POW 3100 Introduction to Literature in Portuguese (from Portugal, Brazil and Africa)
- POW 3130 Introduction to Brazilian Literature I (1500-1900)
- POW 3131 Introduction to Brazilian Literature II (1900-present)
- POW 4380 Contemporary Brazilian Poetry
- POW 4382 Brazilian Drama
- POW 4450 Modernist Movement in Brazilian Literature
- POW 4454 Nineteenth-Century Brazilian Literature
- POW 4480 Contemporary Brazilian Narrative
- POW 4700 Machado de Assis and his Contemporaries
- POW 4930 Special Topics in Luso-Brazilian Culture and Literature
- PRT 3391 Brazilian Cinema (cross-listed with ENG 4135 National Cinemas)
- PRT 3930 Readings in Luso-Brazilian Culture and Literature in Translation ((e.g. Brazil in Song, Dictatorship and Development, Fantasy and Science Fiction, Portuguese Globalism)

For more information, check with Undergraduate Advisor, Prof. Charles A. Perrone (perrone@ufl.edu) or Prof. M. Elizabeth Ginway (eginway@ufl.edu). For questions regarding language courses please consult with Prof. Andrea Ferreira (deia@ufl.edu). Please see www.ufic.ufl.edu for Study Abroad Information and Application. The Department web address is www.spanishandportuguese.ufl.edu; see Portuguese there.